1 The Tunga Anicut irrigates 21,500 acres in the taluks of Shimoga and Honnali in Shimoga District. Irrigation under this project for the full potential has been realised some years back. According to the Mysore Irrigation Act 1965, Section 27, the regulation of water supply from an irrigation work has to be made by the Irrigation Officer in consultation with a committee to be appointed by the Government. Under rule 16 of the Mysore Irrigation Act, it has been laid down that such a committee in respect of a major irrigation work shall consist of 7 official members and 8 non official members and in respect of an irrigation work other than a major irrigation work it shall consist of 4 official members and 5 non official members.

2 The Tunga anicut scheme is not a major irrigation work inasmuch as its cost is less than 5 crores.* As per the circular No.PWD.12.LLM.66, dated 26-4-1966 consultative committees may be different in respect of each major irrigation work and one consultative committee for each Taluk may perhaps suffice in respect of medium and minor irrigation works of that Taluk.

* Flag 'D'

3 As per the circular dated 26-4-1966, since Tunga anicut scheme is not a major irrigation work, the Taluk Level consultative committee will have to be formed. But in as much as this project covers more than one Taluk namely Shimoga and Honnali taluks, it is necessary that one single committee is formed specially for the management of Tunga Anicut project. Strictly as per rule 16 of the Mysore Irrigation Rules, there is no bar or prohibition for the constitution of such a committee except that the number of members of such a committee will have to be restricted to 4 official members and 5 non-official members only. So far no irrigation consultative committee has been appointed for the Tunga Anicut scheme. As such we may address the Divisional Commissioner, Bangalore and Chief Engineer(Irrigation)South. The draft letter placed below may ~~please be perused and approved~~. Some.

We have constituted Consultative Committees for Major and Medium Irrigation Projects.

I am not aware if any Consultative Committee is functioning in respect of Tunga Project. Many problems under Tunga Project remain unsolved.

Hence, it is necessary to constitute a Consultative Committee for Tunga Project, if not, constituted hitherto.

South and the Divisional Commissioner, Bangalore may be seen at pp 5-6 and 8 cf. The Divisional Commissioner is of the opinion that there need not be a separate Committee for Tyadhigeri and the Committees constituted for the Shimoga and Honnali taluks could be adequate for this purpose

In the case of Tunga Project since the project covers more than two taluks, it may be desirable to have one single committee instead of two taluk level committees. The approximate areas in the two taluks are

Shimoga — 13400 acres
Honnali — 8100 acres
21500 acres

Under the circumstances the proposals of CE regarding the constitution of the committee may be agreed.

Official Members

1. Dep. Commissioner, Shimoga. Chairman

Sir,

Sub: Constitution of an Irrigation Consultative Committee for Tunga Anicut Project.

Ref: Your letter No. PWD.23 MTA 70 dated 26-6-70.

Tunga Anicut, project is a Medium Irrigation project supplying water to parts of Shimoga and Honnali Taluks. Seperate Irrigation consultative Committees have been constituted for Shimoga and Honnali Taluks, vide Government Order number PWD 217 IIs 69 dated 18-6-70 for a period of 3 years from 1-4-1970 with the Asst. Commissioner, Shimoga Sub-Division as Chairman of both the Committees and the concerned Asst. Engineers of the Taluk as Secretaries. The Chief Engineer, Irrigation South has suggested the formation of one Committee exclusively with the Deputy Commissioner, Shimoga as chairman and the Asst. Engineer, Tunga Anicut as the Secretary. Out of 4 non-official members suggested by the Chief Engineer, three members have since been nominated as members of the Taluk Level Committees. Formation of too many committees for dealing with the same subject and decisions taken thereon might overlap one another. As such formation of a seperate committee for Tunga Anicut is not desirable. The existing committee may continue.

In this connection kind reference is also invited to Government Circular No.PWD 12.LBW-66 dated 26-4-66 wherein Government have also expressed the view that one consultative Committee for each taluk might suffice in respect of medium and minor irrigation works of that taluk.

Yours faithfully,
